

Porsche Carrera Cup Middle East season 2026/27 suspended

09/09/2026 Due to current circumstances and the resulting uncertainty, Porsche Carrera Cup Middle East confirms that it will suspend its activities for the 2026 season.

Following a comprehensive review of the current circumstances and the resulting uncertainty affecting the planning and execution of the championship, Porsche Carrera Cup Middle East confirms that it will suspend its activities for the 2026 season.

The series must be able to provide all stakeholders with the operational, logistical and commercial certainty required to plan and deliver a championship to the standards expected. At present, this level of certainty cannot be assured.

The pause will allow Porsche Carrera Cup Middle East to undertake a controlled reset and work closely with its key partners towards a strong and sustainable return in the 2027 season.

We would like to thank our drivers, teams, partners and everyone involved for their continued support, trust and understanding. We remain fully committed to the region and to motorsport in the Middle East.
